

Roger Espadas

Started his career as a language teacher in Europe in 2000 and ever since he has been searching for new ways to facilitate language acquisition to students. Roger holds a B. A. in English Language Teaching from Ceneval Mexico and he has taught at UNAM, The Anglo, and Tec de Monterrey. For the latter he was founder of CEDDIE, an institutional board that promoted ideas for improving teaching techniques and making those ideas come true. Roger has lectured on Pronunciation, eLearning and Gamification for a myriad of institutions in Mexico and Latin America. Roger is currently working at Empreser ELT as an International Academic Consultant and Regional Product Manager for MM Publications.
